

UFO Sighting in Chile was labeled meteor by skeptics, however new video shows a 120 degree turn! Looks like we got better evidence that the skeptics got!

Date of sighting: May 28, 2011

Location of sighting: Puerto Montt, Chile

This UFO was recorded back in May 28, 2011 and was thought to be a meteorite by many who tried to debunk it. The object was seen flying toward the volcano...the same volcano the erupted a week later.

This new video was just release to the public today and shows the UFO making a 120 degree turn. Damnnnnnnn that's one awesome meteorite right? Nope, only an intelligently controlled craft with incredible technology could make such an aerial maneuver.
